Clallam Transit System

Thank you for using Clallam Transit on your smart phone or alternate device.

Since we have updated the format of our webpage, you may notice some changes. Here are some helpful tips and tricks to make using the webpage on your device easier.

1. You will not see the standard menu bar across the top. You will see a mobile menu icon that looks something like this Click this icon on the webpage to access the menu bar.
2. If you click on a link that connects to a PDF, this will likely load in the background. It will not automatically view. Many phones you will see an icon on the top menu of your device that looks like this Or check your downloads folder to find the PDF. This varies between each device and its settings.
    - The great thing about this is once you download it, it's saved on your phone!
3. If you are having a difficult time accessing the page it may be because you are using an old link. Please load directly to www.clallamtransit.com and resave any links. Even though our domain name did not change, you may be linking into the old webpage, which is no longer in use.
